BRITISH TO SEEK SOUTH POLE.

Auto a Novel Feature For Their Ice Journeys.

London, Feb. 12.—A new British expedition to the south pole will leave England next October, under command of E. H. Shackleton, who was third lieutenant on the "Discovery expedition" to the Antarctic. The present enterprise has influential support, and will follow up the lines of the "discovery expedition" in an endeavor to reach the geographical south pole, in addition to landing a party at Mount Melbourne to attempt to reach the magnetic pole. A novel feature of the voyage will be the employment of a motor car built for ice traveling.

Bicycles For Police and Soldiers.

Development of the bicycle-police idea has been steadily growing in many of the big cities of the world and American cities have not been behind-hand in making use of the wheel as a help to their police departments. But the city of Brussels has an organization perfected within the past five years, which, in some features at least, leads other municipalities along this line, and which in some respects is unique.

The bicycle police of Brussels ride chainless wheels, carry neither swords nor clubs and are armed only with revolvers, which they are not supposed to use except in extreme emergency, yet their service is competent and effective. They ride the boulevards and greater thoroughfares always in pairs, and traffic of all kinds is absolutely under their control. Motorists and cyclists have a wholesome respect for them, for they carry speed indicators on their wheels and when an offender against speed-limit regulations appears, they have only to follow a short distance to secure certain proof of his offense. Arrest, immediate or subsequent, is sure to follow and fitting penalty is exacted. The men are carefully selected for their task upon the streets, are experts in handling blockades and other street troubles and are under a system of telephone reports and calls which make them quickly available at any point. The statement is made by observers of their work that two mounted men are worth ten foot-men. They are also used as messengers in all sorts of police duty.

During the last ten years the Belgian army has made use of the bicycle, also, for mounting a force of riflemen. They use a folding wheel and are armed with the regulation service rifle. Being picked men, and crack shots, they give excellent service as scouts, for they can cross all sorts of country, riding when possible and carrying their folded wheels when not. In their sober, dark green uniforms, with yellow trimmings and cloth caps they are neat, but not gaudy and are a very useful body to the service.—Technical World Magazine.

Water Warning.

All those using water from the McFarland & Boyce system who are obliged to keep the water running to prevent it from freezing must be very sparing of it, as so many full streams running at once reduce the pressure and inconvenience some of our customers. A small stream will protect the pipe just as well as a large one and will not interfere with others. If a person not heeding this warning will be shut off upon our gaining knowledge of the fact.

FREE PRESS

SOLD FOR $4.00

To Secure Ten Thousand Subscribers the Burlington Free Press Offers a Low Subscription Rate and Announces a Voting Contest—Trips

TO JAMESTOWN EXPOSITION

Trip Will Be Made by Rail to Providence, Thence by Steamer to Norfolk—Three Days at the Fair—Many Delightful Excursions to Be Made on Return.

The announcement in the Burlington Free Press of another voting contest is meeting with hearty favor.

The successful contestants are offered trips to the Jamestown exposition and to Washington, and a glance at the itinerary shows that no trip could be more interesting or varied in its attractions. The Free Press will pay all expenses from Burlington to Jamestown and return, covering a period of eight days.

Leaving Burlington, the successful contestants will proceed by rail to Providence, R. I., there boarding an ocean steamer for Norfolk, Va. Arriving at Norfolk, the party will transfer to the Inside Inn, the only hotel within the exposition grounds. At the great Jamestown exposition the party will be provided with free admissions to the grounds and certain concessions on the War Path. On one of the three days to be spent there, a steamer trip will be made around the naval fleet, visits also being made on this trip to other points of interest.

Departure from the exposition will be in season to connect with one of the postal steamers of the Norfolk & Washington Steamship company. The day's sail on the Potomac will be delightful and interesting, some of the notable places viewed being Wakefield, the birthplace of Washington, and Mount Vernon, the beautiful home, where his great life was so worthily ended. At Washington will be visited the Capitol, the Congressional Library and innumerable other public buildings. Special automobiles will transfer the travelers to the Washington railroad station, whence the homeward trip will be continued to Philadelphia, where among the famous places of Independence Hall, the birthplace of the nation, the home of Betsy Ross, who made the first American flag, the United States mint, and other places of historical and industrial importance.

The next transfer is to New York, where a steamer will again be boarded for a charming trip through Long Island sound to Fall River. From Fall River the trip will be made to Burlington by rail. Such is the varied itinerary of those who win in the contest. A glance at the points of interest sketched above gives a hint of the delights of the journey. Railroad rides through landscapes of enchanting beauty, steamer trips on ocean, through sound and through river, little pilgrimages to spots and scenes which in the nation's history, visits to the great national buildings—these are some of the side attractions in a trip whose objective point is the great Jamestown Tercentennial Exposition.

6 TICKETS TO FIVE PERSONS.
Previous contests have shown that candidates living in smaller places have hesitated to compete with those of the larger centres. This time contestants will be divided into five groups.

1—Residents of Burlington.
2—Residents of Winooski, St. Albans, Montpelier and Middlebury.
3—Residents of Essex Junction, Bristol, Vergennes, Swanton, Morrisville and Waterbury.
4—Residents of Chittenden and Addison counties, not included in groups above.
5—Residents of Vermont not included in first four groups.

To the successful candidate in each of these groups one ticket will be given, but to the one securing the largest total vote we will give two tickets. The contest is open to men or women of any age, residents of the district in which they compete.

To any successful contestant who prefers the money to the trip, the Free Press Association will pay or to the winner of the double prize.

$60.00 IN CASH
$125.00 IN CASH

The Burlington Daily Free Press will now be sent by mail for four dollars a year, paid in advance. This is an excellent daily paper and contains all the most important news. It has a strong editorial staff and is of particular value to all who wish to follow the markets. At this rate it costs about 14 cents a copy.

A Reminder of Inferiority.

BUFFALO LICKS A BULL.

Bison Beats Bovine Opponent Before the "Smart Set" of Juarez.

For the first time in a bull ring a buffalo and a bull were pitted against each other in the Juarez arena, across the Rio Grande from El Paso, Tex. The buffalo defeated the bull, and the latter was driven from the ring. Both were badly battered. A pleader narrowly escaped being tossed on the horns of the buffalo as he prodded him with a pole. The buffalo turned on the man and ran him across the ring, hooking him just as his tormentor fell behind a guard.

The buffalo was first turned into the ring, and when the bull entered he made a dash for the buffalo and both locked horns. The fight was fast and furious for a few minutes and the animals separated. Once the buffalo was staggered by the bull as they rushed together. They clashed several times until finally the bull became frightened and refused to fight.

Ten thousand people from all over the southwest witnessed the fight.

BATHES FAMILY IN BEER.

Wife Objects to Husband's "Orrid 'Abit'" and Gets a Divorce.

Principally because her husband had bathed her and her two children in cold beer and as a secondary reason alleging that he threatened to kill her "when I get home" Mrs. Ellen Maher of Chicago applied for a divorce from her husband, Thomas Maher. She got the divorce as well as an injunction restraining Thomas from interfering with her in any way whatsoever.

It was not placed on record in the case that Mrs. Maher objected to beer if properly applied, but when used externally in large quantities after she had retired for the night it was more than she could bear; also it annoyed her two boys, who were unaccustomed to beer in any form.

The limit was reached, according to Mrs. Maher, when Thomas Maher leaving for his work turned to her and pleasantly remarked:

"When I come back from work this evening I am going to kill you." Mrs. Maher did not wait to see whether or not he would make good his word. She went to an attorney instead and after talking the matter over decided that a divorce was the best way out of her troubles.

SLAIN FOR CUP OF WATER.

Desert Jury Justifies the Killing of an Inhuman Hermit.

One man was recently killed and another wounded over a canteen of water, and a desert jury held the survivors justified for their part in the shooting.

Bill and Lynn Despain, prospecting for placer gold in the Colorado desert, became lost in the trackless sweep of sands. In their wanderings they came, half crazed from thirst, upon a well beside the adobe hut of Arthur Jones, a grizzled hermit of the waste.

The Despains became nearly frantic with joy, for the next wandering place was a hard day's ride distant. But when they asked to fill a canteen Jones refused.

The prospectors began to draw water from the well anyway, when Jones opened fire on them from the door of his adobe. Bill Despain fell with a bullet in his hip.

Before Jones could fire again Lynn Despain had shot him dead. Then Despain dragged his brother into the hut and went for help. Bill Despain will recover.

Neither prospector was arrested pending the decision of the coroner's jury exonerating them.

Took Off Widow's Stockings.

Notwithstanding Mrs. Belinda J. Stout made accusations against her husband in a night session of the divorce court before Judge Sturgis at Hartford City, Ind., she was denied a divorce.

Belinda alleged that her husband, William, brought Mandy Johnson, a widow who lived on an adjoining farm, to their home to stay all night and that he removed her stockings and was guilty of other foolish performances in her presence. But even all this did not seem sufficient in the mind of the judge to give Mrs. Stout a separation.

A Formidable Drum.

John Ziska, the one eyed chief of the Hussites, ordered in his will that his skin should be tanned and made into a drum. "The noise which my skin will make," said he, "will frighten away all our enemies and put them to flight."
